_____ Those wacky little midwestern states plan a big party. They send out invitations, blow up balloons and hire a band to play.

_____ After a couple of days pass, the states realize they're not as happy as they thought.

_____ Finally, all the states were back in their very own homes. They were so happy to see their old friend and share their new experiences.

_____ Virginia and Idaho announced that they are switching places and ask everyone if they want to switch places, too. A wave of excitement sweeps through the room!

_____ At last, the big day arrives and little by little the states arrive at the party. They spend hours talking, laughing, dancing and singing.

_____ The states run home to pack and soon everyone is in a new spot. They think this is a much better arrangement!

_____ Everyone wants to go home so they pack up their things and hit the road.

_____ Kansas, who was sick of being stuck in the middle of the country, is now stuck in the middle of nowhere feeling lonesome and seasick.

_____ Kansas has a GREAT IDEA! He wants to have a party and invite all the other states.
